Presenting

Mr. Duke

We Proudly

MR. CHARLES B. DAVIS

If music does indeed have charms to calm the savage spirit, Mr. Charles B. Davis weaves a spell of magic so great that it enriches the lives of students and adults as well.

Mr. Davis is our talented band director, rarely exposed to the spotlight himself, yet he shines each time the Dublin High School band performs. With a wave of the baton, the long hours of effort on his part are softened by the admirable performance of his musicians.

Music is a rare gift, yet Mr. Davis has taken his enthusiasm for fine music and has passed it to many students.

He is a man to be admired, praised, and applauded.

The annual staff now proudly dedicates its yearbook to a worthy faculty member, an asset to the community, and a friend to students.

With great applause, we honor Mr. Charles B. Davis.

Thoughts to be Remembered

In the realm of human existence each man is measured by the admirable deeds he accomplishes and the worthy words he leaves to be remembered. Every individual is a memory to those with whom he has lived. If he has lived with love in his heart and vision in his soul, he is remembered with joy and happiness. If he has lived with hatred and malice in his existence, he is remembered with scorn.

May each man walk the path of life in such a way that his life, when ended, will be a memory of utmost wisdom and joy. May he walk not with heavy footfalls and downcast eyes. He must lift his head, focus his eyes on the horizon, and walk straight and tall. The days of a man's life will be filled with understanding and happiness. His days will end, not in mourning, but with the hope of an easier and brighter pathway to the future.

Juniors Work Diligently!

Dublin High School is People

But Stella, you can't have your cake and eat it too!

A book, a book! My kingdom for a book!

Look, you guys! We're in pictures.

Between the dark and the daylight - oh well!

And People and People

Two heads are better than one. Who says?

Those wild teens and their cars. The Golden Rule lives on.

They Walk in Beauty

MRS. ANNE GRIGSBY

MRS. LYNDALL MASON

The showcase in the reception area of the school is constantly filled with lovely arrangements of flowers and art work.

This showcase is kept in attractive condition due to the efforts of Mrs. Anne Grigsby and Mrs. Lyndall Mason. These teachers have combined their talents to make Dublin High School a more charming place in which to study and work. Mrs. Grigsby always creates a splendid and unique arrangement of flowers and china figurines. Mrs. Mason shares with the school the art work created in her classes.

We, the student body, owe these ladies a message of appreciation and gratitude. We thank them for helping to make Dublin High School a place of beauty as well as knowledge.
